—Everybody that has a place to put ice has put up some.

—Mr. G. A. Denham spent a part of this week in Louisville.

—Hon. C. W. Lester has gone to Mt. Vernon to attend court.

—Circuit court closed Saturday night, after four weeks continuous work.

—Dr. Worrell, of Louisville, is preaching at the Baptist church this week.

—An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moore died Saturday of pneumonia.

—Clay, the little son of J. L. Whitehead, has been very sick, but is improving.

—Sheriff W. B. Bennett took James Bowman to the penitentiary Monday to serve a term of four years for the murder of James Reeder at Barbourville.

—The next lecture of our lecture course will be delivered by Dr. James Hedley, Feb. 23, at the Congregational church on the subject, "Heroes and Heroism."

—Our young people have been taking advantage of the snow and spend their evenings skating. A few have received some slight bruises, but none have been seriously hurt.

—Last Monday evening A. P. Rowe, one of the men who escaped jail here Sunday night, boarded the train at Louisville, in Knox county, and was arrested by parties watching for him and returned to jail Tuesday morning. He will not doubt go on to the pen to serve the seven years he was sentenced for. David the negro, is still at large and no clue has been secured as to his whereabouts.

It is told of a Kentucky schoolboy, whose home is in Knox county, that when his teacher requested him to write a composition on Napoleon he presented the following: "Napoleon was wicked, but all-fired smart, and his great example should be imitated by us all. He liked the Italians and the Prussians and the Russians and was ready for more. He didn't care how he did it as long as he could lick everybody. When I get to be a man I shall be just like him. He was smarter than Buffalo Bill and wasn't afraid of no live man. But when he got so he could lick the whole world he was too dangerous, so the police put him on an island. I should like to see 'em put me on an island."

There is said to be one editor in heaven. How he passed through the "pearly gates" is unknown, but is supposed he practiced a base deception on St. Peter as a "reformed drunkard" and traveling evangelist. When the deception was discovered, it is stated on the authority of the "oldest inhabitant" that all of the golden streets of the "New Jerusalem" were searched for a lawyer to draw up papers of ejectment, but as one could not be found in all the "starry realms" the editor is still there.

—Since the Fifty-third Congress was elected there have been a total of 29 changes in the membership of the House, eleven of them caused by death, three by removals as the result of election contests, and 13 by resignations.

—T. O. Blackburn, a Harrison county farmer, shot his son-in-law, Daniel Carr, Wednesday. Carr was accused of mistreating his wife.

CARD OF THANKS.—We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Stanford for their unbounded sympathy and kindness during the last days of our beloved dead. May God bless them all and may he especially bless Frank Peyton in this world and that which is to come.

J. B. HIGGINS,
J. M. HIGGINS.

Never mind the blizzard;
You're feeling prime!
Night's full freeze in winter
As fry in summer time.

When the winter closes—
When the icebergs go,
There'll be tons of snow
For every pound of snow.

Mr. J. A. Scripps, a prominent manufacturer of 15 East 14th street, New York City, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy from Druggist H. L. Lane, Peekskill, N. Y. Such good results followed by its use that he sent back to Mr. Lane for two bottles more of the same remedy. Those who give this medicine a trial are seldom satisfied with any other when in need of such a preparation. It is unequalled for colds and coughs.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The skating rink continues to be a source of pleasure to old and young alike.

—We regret to note the illness of Mrs. Mary F. Holmes, proprietress of the Mason Hotel.

—Col. W. O. Bradley is in Harrodsburg this week engaged in the Vanarsdall murder trial.

—The grocery firm of G. S. & F. D. Gaines has been dissolved, the latter retiring. He will go to Danville and engage in business.

—Mr. R. H. Bilson's elegant new residence on Lancaster street has been completed. The painting done by A. G. Scott is said to be the finest work ever done in this section of the country.

—Mr. Jim Hamilton tells us that his dogs killed 20 rats last Sunday morning, in less time than it takes to tell it and would have killed that many more, but he didn't want them to break the Sabbath.

—The meeting at the Methodist church is beginning to warm up. The house is crowded every night, while a good many attend the day services. No one has joined yet, but a good many have given in their "experience."

—Cit Evans and Anderson Leavel, the latter a cripple, were arrested by a U. S. marshal and taken to Richmond, Wednesday, charged with selling liquor without license. Both are negroes and live on Battle Row.

—The subject of free turnpikes is being discussed in Lancaster and the county. It is meeting with much favor too, as most everyone knows that the toll gate is the poor man's enemy.

—"Uncle Rem" Smith was before Judge Burnside, Tuesday, on a writ de inaudita infamia and was adjudged to be of unsound mind by a jury. He has been growing worse for some time and was dangerous. He was 55 years of age and was born in Fayette county, but had spent the greater portion of his life in Garrard.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Little Selma Bishop still remains in a critical condition. There seems to be a complication of diseases, and the doctors have but little hope for her recovery.

—Mr. W. S. Drye, entertained a few friends last Friday night, and spread a table with every dish imaginable, from the plump duck to the steaming bowl of punch.

—The public school closed last week, three days before it was intended, on account of the illness of the teacher, Miss Kate Blaine's niece, who is suffering from scarlet fever. Miss Kate has given perfect satisfaction and the pupils' advancement redounds to her credit.

—Cesar Minor, our "Ole Virginia" barber is wearing a mysterious air, and we give a timely warning, especially to the colored population, to keep a sharp eye on him. He received an express package a few weeks ago, containing a pair of body snatcher's hooks, and he is every day in receipt of letters, which no one knows anything about, only that they come from various cities.

—Mr. J. G. Weatherford spent a week among relatives and friends here. Miss Annie Dunn, of Stanford, is the guest of Miss Mattie Dinwiddie. Miss Oliver James and sister, of Harrodsburg, entered O. C. Tuesday. Mr. Carroll B. Reid brought home four 2-year old race colts, which Leslie will keep for him until spring. He bought them in Ohio for about $1,000. F. B. Tidwell is in Louisville on business. Dr. Ed Aleora went to Longview, Ala., Monday. Mr. Jonathan Russell, lifelong host of the Hotel Vandome, has gone to Burgin.

—Hon. Wilbur F. Browder, of Russellville, was elected a member of the democratic State executive committee from the Third district, to succeed Capt. David Walker, deceased. Green R. Keller has resigned as a member of the State central committee in the Ninth and Hanson Kennedy was chosen in his stead.

—The court of appeals has decided that Henry Delaney, who killed Abbie Oliver, in Union county, whom he was forced to marry, had the right, with his kinsmen to band themselves together, and for Delaney to use such means as were necessary to secure his release, and that if he so attempted and accidentally killed Abbie Oliver he should be acquitted.

—A new girl at Dr. Lovell's.

—The debating club at the Institute is flourishing.

—Candidate for Register of Land Office M. F. Brinkley was here during the week.

—Circuit court convened Monday and a large number of people were in town.

—Milton Miller is the name of a late arrival in the family of George McCoy. All doing well.

—The picture of our little newsboy, F. L. Thompson, Jr., appeared in the Wednesday's issue of the Louisville Times.

—Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt is very sick. We join in the wish of her many friends that she may have an early recovery. Mrs. E. A. Rappert is ill.

—The only negro we know of who cares nothing for chicken lives at this place. Some years since he with two other men ate six roasted at a moonshine still one night.

—The Richmond special to the dailies greatly exaggerates the trouble that occurred on train 23 a few days since. Only one man was concerned and that was Matt Pike, who got aboard the train here for Pine Hill. Just as the train started he fired off his pistol into the ground three or four times while standing between the coaches. He came in Monday, confessed and was fined.

—Jack Lawrence is again "owling" at Sinka. Mrs. M. J. Miller has been quite sick for some days. Mr. W. F. Kennedy, who has been very ill for some time at Central City, is here at his daughter's, Mrs. M. C. Williams, and is improving. Oliver Dillon has returned to Crab Orchard. Mr. Hugh Miller is in Louisville on railroad and other business. Mr. R. G. Williams is in from Danville. Mrs. James Maret is somewhat improved.

This Man Can Win.

The Glasgow Times, in commenting on the coming race for Governor says: "The Louisville Critic professes to believe that C. M. Clay is the only democrat in the State who can harmonize the party and pulverize Bill Bradley. Like all other Irishmen, Dan O'Sullivan does dearly love a joke."

The Times mistakes the case. The Critic did not say that Cassius M. Clay was the only democrat in the State who could harmonize the party and defeat Colonel Bradley. Here is what it did say: "The democrats can not afford to put a weak stick of timber in their personal or party platform. What other candidate appeals to the plain people so strongly as rugged, honest, able Cass Clay—a farmer, a student of affairs, a blunt, obstinate, right-thinking gentleman? He, alone, of all the aspirants for Governor, can make the defeat of the republican ticket a certainty."

In other words, the Critic meant that Watt Hardin, who is the only other candidate of prominence opposing Mr. Clay, can not bring the full vote, if there is anything like a defection at the disaffection that is reported in the democratic papers all over the State. Mr. Hardin is a politician of the old school always an office-seeker and nearly always an office-holder. He is not lacking in a certain tact that passes for talent in political circles, nor is he wanting in the capacity to mount the raging stump and spread his eagle like pinions and sail through sunlit metaphors into the bosom of the blue empyrean. He is identified as closely as a man could be with what is known as the "State House ring." That implies the group of office-holders who have controlled the politics and the offices of the State for 20 years. The people are going to demand a change next year as the best prophetic prediction, then what is more likely than that they will turn their attention to those who have grown gray drawing salaries out of the Treasury without showing any premeditated conferred upon them?

Cassius M. Clay is not much of a man for corporations because he has fought them most persistently. He has not the knack of spouting oratorical nothings. He is a farmer himself and he has always fought for the farming class unselfishly. He is a modest, firm and conscientious man who has convictions and who also has the courage to carry out his views. In the Governor's chair he would be a second Simon Bolivar Buckner, fearless and just. The Critic repeats in spite of the humor that "babies from the Glasgow Times at the mere mention of the fact, that there are other entries in the Governor's race, Cass Clay is the only candidate that can keep Kentucky in the democratic ranks in 1895.—Louisville Critic

Afflicted with Rheumatism?

Mr. George A. Muns, of Lexington, Conn., says: "I was all end with rheumatism in my back all last winter. It was so severe at times that I could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. I tried different remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days according to directions, my rheumatism was gone and I have not returned since. I have since recommended it to my neighbors and know they have been benefited by its use."

—Gov. Brown has appointed Rev. Dr. W. C. Young, of Danville, a commissioner of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. The place to which Mr. Young is appointed was made vacant by the death of Mr. J. W. Proctor.

—Mrs. Tim Dudderar died at her home at Rowland, Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness of consumption. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Haley and was a splendid Christian lady. Her husband preceded her to the grave about a year ago, also having died of the same dread disease. The remains will be laid to rest in Buffalo Cemetery this morning.

—Friday night a Michigan man passed through Paris over the L. & N. en route to Middleboro, with 600 bushels of potatoes in a fruit car which had extra inner walls and a double floor. The mercury being 22 degrees below zero when he left home, he had a stove put in the car and kept a hot fire up all the way from Michigan to Middleboro, and slept in the car. The freight bill was $160.—News.

—Bright Swinebroad fainted and fell lifeless against the wall in his room last Tuesday. The attack lasted about an hour. He is all right at this writing. Dr. Dunlap claims that it was an attack of vertigo.

—Mrs. Robert Anderson has moved to her mother's in Garrard county. Mike Rogers has moved to Mrs. B. F. Engleman's farm. Dr. Herring presented A. Bourne with a fine girl a few days ago. Miss Maggie Swinebroad has been on the sick list for some days.

—The protracted meeting closed here a few days ago, with some two or three conversions and many old members renewed their pledges, while a good number claim to have received the blessing of sanctification, which they now seem to enjoy and we feel that the meeting will be the cause of much good in this community.

The latest confure is thus described: The hair is merely parted in the middle, with a long, single curl falling over the forehead. At the side it is arranged in pulls—rather unconventional pulls, for they have the appearance of undulating waves. These pulls or waves are drawn over the ears, covering the upper part of the ear entirely. Side combs are used in fastening the pulls to the low coil of hair at the back, which is usually worn with this new and somewhat trying arrangement.

—The Bankers' Magazine shows the recent depression has cost the farmers of this country more than hundred million dollars in each year since 1892. The farm value of the wheat, cotton and corn crops in 1892 was $1,283,390,000, in 1893 $1,100,333,000, and in 1894 was $1,170,100,000. On the three crops alone the farmer was $180,000,000 behind in 1893 and $110,000,000 behind in 1894.

—Twelve of the 15 prisoners confined in the Outletsburg jail escaped by tunneling under the building. Seven of them had been sentenced to the penitentiary, one for 15 years.

FIVE REASONS WHY

JAMES FRYE,

HUSTONVILLE, KY.

Can Sell Goods Cheaper than Others.

I wish to thank my many friends and patrons for their very liberal patronage. I am now in position to sell goods cheaper than any of my competitors. 1. Because I have no rent to pay either for business house or dwelling. 2. I keep no high-priced clerks. 3. I have to pay no city tax for water and lights. 4. I pay cash for all of my goods and give the trade the benefit of the big discounts. 5. I will sell for cash, or 30 days only to responsible people, and will lose no bad debts, and need no extra clerk to itemize long accounts. These are my terms and I cannot change them under any circumstances. To convince one and all examine these prices.

GROCERIES.—Baker's Flour, $1.50 per 100, best green Coffee 23 1/2c, Arbuckles 22 1/2c, Granulated Sugar 22 lbs for $1, special prices in barrel lots, good green coffee 20c, black pepper 11c, raisins, figs and prunes 8 1/2c. Best corn and tomatoes 3 cans for 25c, and other bargains in the same line.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Men's heavy boot $2, former price $3.50, A good one for $1.25, heavy plow shoes 75c, the best one made for $1.25. Men's fine shoes, lace and Congress, at $1.25, $1.50 and $2 former price $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3.50. Ladies' Kid, patent tip, $1. A first class ladies' kid shoe on all different lasts at $1.35, that other merchants are selling at $2.

CLOTHING.—I will close out my present stock of clothing regardless of cost. I only mention a few to show how cheap they are. A good black wool chevrot suit for men at $3.99. Heavy, a 1 wool cassimere pants at $2, in fact anything in stock at less money than you ever bought them. A good long Overcoat for $5. You must see the bargains I have to properly appreciate them.

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS at such marvelous reductions that it seems almost impossible. I can only mention a few. All calicoes at 4 1/2c including Indigos, blacks and merrings. Masonville and Lonsdale bread cottons at 7c. All wool cassimere and Henriettas, 10 inches wide, at 35c. 4 spools of Clark's thread for 35c, and a thousand things I haven't space to mention. Goods were never sold as low as I will sell them. Remember my terms are CASH, or the limit to responsible people is 30 days. All accounts are now just due and those indebted to me will please settle at once. My spring samples of tailor-made Clothing now on hand at greatly reduced prices.

W. H. WEAREN & CO.

W. P. WALTON.

The appellate judge contest for the Louisville district of Boyle vs. Toney had not been decided, when we went to press, though Thursday night had been set for its final consideration. When the board met Tuesday it practically voted to seat Toney, by a vote of three to two, Hendricks, Hendley and Hale, attorney general, secretary of State and treasurer respectively, voting in the affirmative and Gov. Brown and Auditor Norman in the negative. A motion to reconsider was immediately put and carried, however, and an adjournment effected till last night. The question hinges on whether the ballots remaining in the boxes shall be counted and Treasurer Hale wanted more light on the subject. It is now almost sure that Boyle will be declared elected, which will give the republicans another member of the court.

When Col. Bradley mounts the raging stump and begins to tell how much money Dick Tate and his pals stole from the Kentucky treasury, it won't do much good to retaliate by saying the republican treasurer of Illinois stole more than $100,000 in excess of Tate, but it will show that sorry sheep are found in all flocks. The record of public robbery shows that the republicans have always made a hand and a half when compared with the democrats and it is the part of wisdom for their speakers to exercise prudence and caution.

A St. Louis man has just paid a widow $2,500 for a kiss he took without her consent, a jury having awarded her that sum on a claim for $5,000 damages. Stolen kisses are said to be the sweetest and in this instance the thief found them to be much the dearest. It must be exceedingly unsatisfactory to kiss a woman who objects to the operation. The only good from a kiss comes from reciprocity, reciprocity and absolute willingness. All other kisses are base counterfeits.

Mr. CLAY says he is not going to permit Gen. Hardin to obscure State issues by discussing free silver and the tariff. The governor of Kentucky has nothing to do with either of those issues so far as shaping them is concerned, and he will devote but little time to them. Issues of paramount importance to the State will be discussed by him and he is going to pin his opponent down to them. Good. We have heard enough about silver and the tariff to produce nones.

COL. BRICKNBRIDGE will soon be out of a job, but he has succeeded in prevailing on Collector Shelby, father of his law partner, whom he had appointed collector in the Lexington district, to give his son, Deeba, a soft berth, which will last for some time. The young man with the pugacious proclivities will collect the income tax and we be unto him, who owes and refuses to pay. He will forthwith be cut, carved or shot to pieces.

The efforts of the two Posts, the Louisville and Covington, to head Col. Bradley off from the gubernatorial nomination is love's labor lost, or perhaps 'twere better said they will not enjoy the sweets of revenge in the accomplishment of their purpose. The Garrard chieftain's chances for being made the standard bearer of his party are no longer problematic. They are as sure as a cent is for a ginger cake.

The report of a general snow storm in Georgia, East Tennessee, South Carolina and Northern Mississippi, sounds almost beyond belief, but it is so all the same. At Atlanta, where snow is almost unknown, there was a sufficiency to make sleigh riding good and those who could afford the pleasure indulged in what they may never have a chance of doing again, in that latitude.

The Senate has put the seat of its condemnation on the proposition to elect U. S. Senators by a popular vote. Of course it has. There is hardly a member in the body who could go before the people and make his calling and election sure. The body feels itself above and superior to the people and seems to regard itself as their master instead of their servants.

As bad as it is, the present Congress is not totally depraved. On hearing from the country in reference to its raid on the treasury to pay their private clerks $100 a month during recess, the members reconsidered their action and defeated the salary grab. Berry was the only one of the Kentucky delegation who had the hardihood to vote for the steal.

The Covington Post says that Col. Bradley paid 50 cents a line for the two-column sketch of him in the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette and gave an order for 8,000 copies. We do not know anything about it of course, but we'll wager the statement is a weak invention of an enemy.

YOUNG JOLIN, who was named for postmaster at Elizabethtown is beginning to realize that an appointment does not always appoint. The Senate has not confirmed the president's action and Mrs. Helm is still mistress of the situation, where we hope she will always be found.

In his speech on Abraham Lincoln in the Auditorium at Chicago in celebration of his birthday, Mr. Watterson claimed that he was inspired by God for the purpose he so nobly performed, and was loudly applauded by the immense audience gathered to hear him. If Lincoln had no claim on fame, but the following lines from his sacred inaugural address March 4, 1865, they would have immortalized him: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in, to bind up the Nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The democratic convention to nominate candidates for State offices will be held June 25th at Louisville and the county conventions June 15. The date chosen is a compromise between the wishes of Clay and Hardin and the State executive committee was unanimous in its selection. A large number of leading democrats attended the meeting and there was a general desire to unite the factions and make a vigorous campaign. There is to be a great deal of getting together if we elect the next governor, but we haven't lost faith in the good sense and the loyalty of the large body of democratic voters, and are confident that we will do all the better for the little scare the rats have given us.

Another man is seeking cheap and brief fame by abusing his betters. At a Philadelphia banquet, Congressman Walker, of Massachusetts, called the president and secretary of the treasury traitors and said they ought to be impeached. Of course Mr. Walker is a bass.

—Both of the legs of Miss Eva Dooley, of Boston, were amputated at the knee recently to save her life. They were poisoned by the dye in red stockings which she had been wearing.

—A C. & O. train got stuck in a snow drift near the Manassas battle field in Virginia and was held for 30 hours, and the 50 or 60 passengers suffered greatly from hunger. The drifts was 15 feet deep.

—The Railroad Gazette, shows that in 1894 a total of 442 persons were killed; 280 were employees, 58 passengers and 104 trespassers; 1,343 persons were injured, including 845 employees, 410 passengers and 88 trespassers.

—W. H. Brown, commonly known in and about Seebree as "Poor Billy Brown" recently died. His estate had never been assessed for more than $1,000, but the appraisers, in going through one of the old man's trunks, found a package containing $22,000.

—By a vote of 35 to 26 the question of re-submission of the prohibitory amendment was defeated in the North Dakota House.

—The Harrodsburg Sayings estimates that there are 20 or 25 persons in that county who will be affected by the income tax law.

—The new cable which has recently been laid across the Atlantic weighs 650 pounds to the mile. This is the biggest of all the cables.

—Three firemen were killed, one fireman and a citizen are missing, and eight firemen and one citizen injured as the result of a fire at Lynn, Mass.

—The Southern Railway, in response to a demand that a 10 per cent. reduction in wages be restored, has announced to its employees that it can not afford to do so.

—Representatives of the Standard Oil Company are prospecting in Wayne county. One of the wells tested by them produced 1,100 barrels of oil in four days.

—The removal of the tariff on hemp has caused a fall in prices for "breaking" from $1 and $1.50 to 85 cents. The price of hemp meanwhile has risen from $5 to $5.20 per ton.

—The South Dakota House defeated the resolution for a constitutional amendment giving women the right of suffrage which had passed the Senate by an almost unanimous vote.

—The title of the bill introduced by Mr. Vilas conveys the real sense and meaning of the bill better than most titles do. It was "A bill to save the American people $16,174,770."

—A warrant has been issued at May field for the arrest of D. Hargrove, charged with having attempted to realize on his father-in-law's estate by giving a dose of poison to both his wife's parents.

—At a special meeting of the Knights of Labor held at Columbus, O., it was decided to form an independent organization. It is claimed that 75 per cent. of all the old Knights go into the new body.

—The manifest of the cargo of the steamer Elbe, which was sunk week before last, was brought to New York by the Umbria Monday. A million dollars' worth of gold was lost, being for the most part consigned to New York business firms.

—In 1863 Dr. Allen Leetz, of Scranton, Pa., loaned Henry B. Carey, then a poor man, $500. Carey went West in a short while and the doctor thought his money was gone. He has just died and left his estate of $50,000 to Dr. Leetz, who is pretty well satisfied with the interest.

—William H. Hill died at his home in Washington county, Pa., a few days since. He was 100 years, two months and 22 days old. But for an unfortunate habit of chewing tobacco, which he contracted 55 years ago and persevered in till his death, it is believed he might have attained a ripe age.

—A resolution introduced by Senator Hill, declaring it the policy of the Government to pay its bonds in gold in case the parity between gold and silver could not be maintained, brought on another clash between the metals in the Senate, Senator Stewart at once submitting a counter resolution.

—It is now announced that the Japanese are in complete possession of the Chinese forts and warships at Wei Hai Wei. The capture is one of the most signal successes of the Japanese so far and completely cuts Peking and Tien Tsin off from all communication with the outside world by the sea.

—The French steamer La Gascogne, eight days overdue, came safely into New York harbor Monday night. When only three days out her machinery became seriously disabled, but the ship was in no danger at any time, although severe gales were encountered on the latter part of the voyage. She had on board 146 passengers.

The rails spread near Pine Knot, on the C. S., Tuesday, and threw passenger train No. 5 off the track, fortunately, however, injuring no one seriously.

T. C. Yeager having bought the accounts of Yeager & Yeager, has placed the same in my hands for collection. All indebted will please come forward and settle without costs. W. S. Burch.

The signal service officially declares the backbone of the blizzard broken, but somehow or somehow or other, it doesn't always make things consist. It is still pretty blizzardy here, thank you.

Prosperity.—Prof. Milton Elliott was here Monday and in response to inquiry said: Garrard College is moving on smoothly in its work, with an increase in its attendance since the holidays. The enrollment to the present is about 130 with representatives from 10 counties.

John Wheldon, accidentally shot Plato Cullip, at a turkey shooting near Eubanks, Tuesday. The ball entered the back near the spine and came out under the right breast. It is thought that he can not recover. Both are prominent citizens of the South End of this county.

The Advocate says that there is an exhibition at Logan Denny's drug store "a neat bric-a-brac stand made of carved wood and cow horns and is the work of Mr. W. P. Givens, who does not make any particular claim to being anything except a blue-grass farmer." Mr. Givens can turn his hand to anything and at sewing and knitting can get away with the average girl.

J. W. SHARP writes from Orchard, Texas, that the report that Wallace Sharp, late of Casey county, was killed and robbed in the Lone Star State, is not true.

The court of appeals has affirmed Judge Sanley's decision in the case of Ike Logan, colored, who got five years in the pen for shooting at Mr. W. E. Amon.

A PUNILANIMOUS, dirty coward sent an anonymous letter to this office yesterday, which could only have been conceived in the mind of a fiend too craven to be an assassin. We intend to find out who he is and woe be unto him when we do.

If the bacteria, microbes, animalcules and what not haven't as many lives as a cat they are all killed by this cold weather and next summer we will be so healthy that the doctors will find their occupation gone and have to go to the poor-house, or seek an honest means of support.

ADJUDGED INSANE.—Mr. Ransom Smith, formerly of this county, aged 85, was adjudged insane at Lancaster this week and ordered to the asylum. While guarding his watermelon patch two years ago, he was assaulted by unknown parties, who beat him up fearfully and fractured his skull. His mind has never been right since.

Tuesday night next will be a memorable one to the young people here. In addition to the Damon and Pythias entertainment, there will be a big supper in one of Mrs. Miller's store rooms, and after that a hop will be given in Walton's Opera House, where the boys will dance with the girls all night and go home with them in the morning.

SUPPER.—The wives and sweethearts of the members of the K. P. lodge here will give a supper in the store room next to W. H. Wearen & Co. on the night of the 19th for the benefit of the lodge. Don't forget to get your supper after the play of Damon and Pythias. Tickets can be had at W. H. Wearen & Co.'s, Danks' and Severance & Son's, at 50 cents.

We thought this cold and snowy period of 52 days had caused the old inhabitants who had seen worse spells of longer duration to imitate the example of the ground hog and go into their holes, but Spire Murphy comes to the front to say that the winter of 1893 beat this without halting. From the week of Christmas till the first week in April, snow, ice and sleet covered the earth and gave this whole section the appearance of the glacial period. Next.

MAGNIFIED.—This is the way the item given in our last issue is going the rounds of the press: "There was a sensational scene at the Christian church in Stanford Friday night. A prayer meeting was in progress and pious brothers and sisters, nearly all of whom are converts of the sanctification revival recently held there, were taking on at a high rate, when Dr. J. G. Carpenter, a prominent physician, who is not a believer in sanctification, sprang to his feet and, in scathing terms, denounced preachers, believers and everybody connected with the craze. The preachers present wilted, ladies swooned, and the prayer meeting broke up, leaving the doctor master of the situation."

More Bonds.—The fiscal court met Tuesday with Judge Davidson and Squires John Edmiston, W. L. Dawson, A. G. Faulkner and John Bailey, who constitute it, present. The question to consider was the sale of bonds to meet the deficit and liquidate pressing claims. There is due the Kingsville turnpike $2,750 and other amounts outstanding. The democratic members of the court, Messrs. Bailey and Dawson, thought that $4,500 in bonds would be ample to satisfy all demands, but the republicans stuck to $5,000 and sale to that amount was ordered at the April county court. This will make the bonded indebtedness of the county $29,000, created with the exception of $1,500 for the building of turnpikes. It is pretty bad that the bonds have to be sold now, but it was made necessary by a tremendous and unforeseen increase in the road claims and a reduction in the tax rate. Judge Varnon explains the deficit by stating that the road claims were $2,200 more than provided for, there was $600 loss on railroad assessments, $600 that the bank had held back, which was thought to be paid and $300 insurance on public buildings that were not taken in to consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Binn have another daughter at their home, Winnie Baylis, named for her grand-mother, Mrs. Wm. Beck, and the daughter of the Confederacy.

HICKS, who has struck centre so far, says the cold snap would continue up to the 15th, with a let up till the 17th and 18th, when another sweeping cold wave will freeze us again.

The Advocate states that people who were returning from the show Tuesday night saw it lightning twice, though it was snowing fast. Spire Murphy explains the phenomenon by saying that it was only a reflection from the electric lights of Stanford.

The attention of those who are contemplating matrimony is called to the fact that Spire W. L. Dawson and A. G. Faulkner have been duly authorized to perform the ceremony in such cases made and provided. Their rates, we suppose, will always be a little lower than the preachers.

HELD TO ANSWER.—Owing to the condition of the wounded man, the examining trial of J. S. Wickersham, formerly of this place, for shooting Chief of Police Hughes at Somerset, Christmas day, was not held till Tuesday, when he was bound over to let the next grand jury investigate the case.

SEVERAL more snows and zero weather have prevailed since last report, but yesterday was sunshiny and the Southern exposures lost much of the whiteness that had covered them since Christmas. We hope the worst is over, but there is no telling.

The prognostications are: Generally fair, stationary temperature.

The Advocate says that Judge Prewitt has appointed John Nichols to succeed his brother, R. L. Nichols, as county clerk, he having resigned to become general book-keeper of the Boyle National Bank. Mr. Nichols was also circuit clerk and the appointment of his successor till the November election involved up on Judge Sautley, who appointed that clever young lawyer, Mr. Will J. Price.

A pair of horses driven by Mr. J. H. Baughman to a sleigh got scared at the South-bound passenger train yesterday afternoon and became unmanageable. He held to them tenaciously for awhile but the sleigh tilted and he was thrown out. The horses then dashed down Mill street across Main and ran into a sleigh belonging to a German. The two sleighs were left joined together and the horses continued their mad pace till Mr. Baughman's home was reached. He escaped unhurt but the harness and vehicle were pretty badly demolished. The worst feature of the business is, he was knocked out of a ride with his sweetheart.

If perfection comes from practice, and there is an old saw that says that it does, the young ladies and gentlemen, who are to render the beautiful play of Damon and Pythias at Walton's Opera House, next Tuesday night, 19th, will be able to do so with the ease of finished artists. They have rehearsed something like 'tween hundred times and will continue to do so till the last. A peep at the performance on several occasions enables us to say that each is fully up to his part, and that the company is an all star aggregation. The prices have been fixed at 25, 35 and 50, the latter for reserved seats, and already a crowded house is assured.

The people of Stanford and vicinity showed their appreciation of genius and art by turning out in large numbers while the mercury was near zero, to attend the song recital of Mad. Cecilia Epiphonson Bailey at Walton's Opera House Tuesday night. That they were amply repaid goes without saying, for the little lady fully sustained the reputation that had preceded her. Charming in person and manner, gifted with a voice almost beyond compare and cultivated to the fullest degree, she delighted everybody with her exquisitely rendered songs and dramatic acting. In the classics as well as in ballads she is superb. The latter are always more popular with an audience and she was forced to repeat one or more, which she did with obliging grace and readiness. Though somewhat handicapped by the excessive cold and other drawbacks, the recital was a pronounced success and the beautiful singer added additional laurels to her pretty brow. Miss Jennie Vernon Morton, of Shelbyville, an excellent pianist, travels with Mrs. Bailey and renders the accompaniments for her songs.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. B. A. Dawes has accepted the pastorate of the Highland Baptist church at Louisville.

—Rev. W. P. Fife, the "drummer evangelist," had 150 converts during his revival at Princeton.

—The Sunday School scholars will put a memorial window in the Methodist church at Danville to John W. Proctor.

—Rev. Edward Davis preached a sermon on dancing in San Francisco, and by way of illustrating his remarks, executed a few fancy steps in the pulpit.

—Rev. J. H. Hopper was the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. S. Withers, a couple of days, returning from a meeting at Richmond, where he won 28 souls to Christ, 26 of whom joined the Presbyterian church.

—The Golden Rule says that 14 years ago there was but one Christian Eudeav or Society. To-day there are more than 37,000. Then there were but 48 members in the world. Now there are 2,350,000. Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

—Dr. J. B. Hawthorne, Atlanta's sensational Baptist preacher, delivered a sermon the other night over a telephone, and those in that city, Athens, Macon, Griffin and other towns not far distant, who had telephone connection and cared to hear it, listened to it.

—Dr. Ledyard, the leading Presbyterian minister of Steubenville, O., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church of Danville, to succeed Rev. C. B. H. Martin, who is now a member of the faculty of the Danville Theological Seminary.

—The sanctification meetings have closed and the future will now determine whether or not many of the recent claimed sanctifications are other than cases of nervous hysteria resulting from the sensational occurrences and emotional surroundings peculiar to these meetings.—Middlesboro News.

—Dr. Boyet, the Baptist evangelist from Mississippi, arrived Wednesday and began a meeting here that promises great good. He is a fine speaker and the singer who accompanies him, Mr. Beville, has a fine voice. A platform has been built on a level with the pulpit capable of seating 50 singers and music will be a special feature of the services. The meetings are held at 10 A. M. and 7 P. M., with a song service at 6:30 P. M. Dr. Boyet is a converted Methodist preacher.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John Stephens and Miss Maggie Muse, of the East End, were married at Crab Orchard yesterday.

—T. S. Hagan, of Richmond, and Miss Rika Porter, daughter of a professor in Hamilton College, were married Tuesday.

—William Harris, of Jessamine county, and Miss Lizzie Adams, of the East End, were married yesterday at Bore Adams.

—Hiram Sims played Miss Carrie Scott false at Galveston, Texas, and she seeks to save her wounded feelings by demanding $50,000 of him through the courts.

—John Rollin, of Napoleon, O., eloped with his step daughter, and his wife to get even with him, married her husband's son. What relation will their children be?

—A Minnesota judge holds that a man is legally responsible for slanders from the tongue of his wife. What has Cupid done that the little god's path through Minnesota should be made so rocky?

—The Legislature of South Dakota, that matrimonial relief State, has reduced the term of residence required for a divorce from six to three months. Chicago's only hope of rivalry now is to offer a divorce with every marriage certificate.
